DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The William C. Nedrow House is situated a few feet from Blooming Rose Road. The ground slopes down from N to S, making the foundation of the house more visible on the S elevation. The house has a vista across the road of a creek valley and hills beyond. The facade of the house points S.

The house is a one and half story plank-constructed house with a gable roof. The house measures 4 bays across the front by one bay on the sides.

The house rests on a low cut stone foundation and is covered with brown brick patterned asphalt siding. The windows are two over two sash with simple cornices and plain board surrounds. On the facade, two four-paneled doors are set into the two central bays. The roof is covered with corrugated metal.

The house has one interior brick stove chimney at its center, placed just N of the roof ridge line. Gable-roofed porches, supported by square posts, cover both the facade (S elevation) and the N elevation.

The interior is divided into two rooms. The plank walls rest on a log sill and are covered with lath and plaster. The floor rests on log joists. In the NE corner of the E room is an enclosed corner stair leading to the second floor. There is no cellar.

West of the house is a small spring. Northwest of the house is a small frame barn, covered with vertical boards. The roof is of standing seam metal.

The house is abandoned and in very poor condition. The barn appears to be in better shape.
